

Laura Castellanos:

Law graduate, she has an Associate Degree in Business Administration from Tompkins Cortland Community College in Dryden, New York. She also has a Master's Degree in Comparative Law and International Business from the Pontificia Universidad Católica Madre y Maestra (PUCMM) School of Business in the Dominican Republic, and a Diplôme in International Comparative Law et des Affaires from the Université de Savoie, Chambéry; II Université Pierre Mendes, Grenoble.

Commentator for the Programa Matinal; presenter for the investigative program Zona 5 and co-host of Proceso, all of them airing on Telemicro, Canal 5.

Undergraduate and graduate law Professor at the PUCMM and President of LC Consulting firm, a company specializing in consulting and legal advisory in communications.

Film projects: La Montaña y El que mucho abarca.

Boni Guerrero Canto:

Dominican, a lover of politics, Attorney with a Master's Degree in Economic Analysis of Law from the University Research Institute Ortega y Gasset - Complutense University of Madrid, and Legal Manager of the Dominican Republic Film Commission.

Fernando Báez:

Fernando Báez Mella, is a leading film Director from the Dominican Republic. He comes from a family of photographers and cinematographers. His Grandfather, Tuto Báez, made the first Dominican feature film in the Dominican Republic.

A prolific filmmaker with a clear trend towards the works on conservation, the environment and social character content.

He is currently the President and Owner of the production company Unicornio Films, the oldest in film and television production in the Dominican Republic, and of the advertising agency Único Advertising, Marketing Green.

In March 2012, under the new film law, he inaugurated the feature film El Rey de Najayo, and he recently made his first documentary film Lago Enriquillo ... A Prelude to Climate Change, that was screened at the 4th edition of the Dominican Republic Environmental Film Festival (DREFF).

Iván Herrera:

Dominican Director.

Graduate of Marketing and Communications at UNIBE, with film courses from the New York Film Academy and the Hollywood Film Institute.

In 1997 he discovered film making, working as a production assistant, then as a producer and later as an assistant director in television commercials, music videos and international film productions.

In 2005, he decided to put a stop to his surfing career to create La Mala Res Film Group, devoting himself to film directing.

Since then, he has worked in Hollywood and European productions (Miami Vice, The Good Shepherd, Affaires Étrangères, Où Es-Tu...) as well as with international artists such as Ne-Yo, Kat DeLuna y Daddy Yankee. He went to Morocco to film music videos, and one of them was nominated for Best Music Video at the 2007 Urban Music Awards in the Netherlands.

Co-Director of the film La Montaña.

Ronni Castillo

Director of the film Who's the Boss?