Please select the project/program that you would like to support:

<input type="checkbox"/> Muestra de Cine Medioambiental Dominicana. The Festival will provide youth and general audiences the opportunity to watch the best and most beautiful, informative and educational environmental international films of the year, to learn about the pressing issues, to appreciate and value the diversity and beauty the country has to offer and, hopefully, inspire greater environmental stewardship. www.muestracinemedioambientaldominicana.org	<input type="checkbox"/> Dominicanaonline. Is the web portal of the Dominican Republic, created and implemented with the purpose of presenting the country with a wealth of current information to a national and international public. This project has been built by an international and multidisciplinary team with a vision for promoting the image of the Dominican Republic, disseminating knowledge about the country and strengthening the appreciation and respect for its heritage and values. www.dominicanaonline.org
<input type="checkbox"/> InterDom. Is a competitive internship, research and study program in the Dominican Republic that promotes professional, academic and cultural exchange between students, universities, professionals, businesses and non-governmental organizations on both national and international scales. InterDom offers a wide variety of programs for individual undergraduate, graduate, doctoral and gap-year students and researchers. www.interdominternships.org	<input type="checkbox"/> Photo Exhibit of the book New Perspectives: Dominican Republic As part of its mission to promote the understanding and appreciation of the Dominican culture, values and heritage, GFDD has publish this boo and has created an itinerant photo exhibit under the same name. The initiative aims at presenting the little known facets of the country's richness and diversity and shedding new light on those that are better known to general audiences. www.newperspectivesdominicanrepublic.com
<input type="checkbox"/> EcoHuertos. The EcoHuertos program seeks to support the creation of organic and sustainable vegetables gardens in schools and communities throughout the Dominican Republic. It also supports hands-on workshops in the field of natural science contained in the educational curriculum. The program generates awareness of the importance of a balanced diet, contributes to the food security and independence as well as the creation of small local business. www.eco-huertos.org	<input type="checkbox"/> ReCreatee. Th ReCreatee program is a practical education initiative which offers women, youth and children workshops in art recycling. The program demonstrates how recycling waste into an art-form can empower individuals and communities alike. Through this program, GFDD seeks to engage Dominican communities into reformulating the way they think about trash, thereby promoting the three golden rules of proper waste management: Reduce, Reuse and Recycle. www.R3createe.org
<input type="checkbox"/> Dominican Encyclopedic Dictionary of the Environment. The dictionary is an instrument that fills a gap in the country, because it contains generic terms and concepts of interest on environmental issues and conservation, in a 463-page full color book. The book contains 712 terms, 19 thematic areas, 58 tables, 123 figures and 700 photographs, of which 200 are of the Dominican Republic. www.dominicanaonline.org/diccionariomediambiente/es/	<input type="checkbox"/> Dominican Get-Togethers. As a part of its mission to promote the understanding and appreciation of the Dominican culture, values and heritage, and to create opportunities for discussions of contemporary issues relevant to the Dominican society in the homeland and abroad, GFDD reaches out to the Dominican community living in the US and to all those interested in the Dominican culture by organizing ongoing events: Dominican Get-togethers. www.dominicangettogethers.org/about_initiative.asp
